Аннотация. В работе показано, что руськомовный текст, известный как Посольство Исы в Антиохию и записанный арабским письмом в рукописных китабах татар Великого княжества Литовского, является сокращенной версией одной из глав книги Жития пророков Абу Исхака ас-Салаби (ум. 1035 г.), исламского (суннитского) богослова, историка и толкователя Корана, работавшего в Нишапуре (северо-восточный Иран). Этот славянский текст воспроизводится в латинской транслитерации параллельно с английским переводом соответствующего раздела указанного арабского трактата.

Ключевые слова: Великое княжество Литовское, руська мова, переводная книжность, рукописи литовских татар, китабистика, китаб, тefsir, Иса (Иисус), Абу Исхак Ахмад ибн Мухаммад ас-Салаби

Abu Ishak al-Thalabi's The Lives of the Prophets as a Source of The Embassy of Isa to Antioch attested in Lithuanian Tatars' Kitabs

Summary. The author argues that the Ruthenian text known as The Embassy of Isa to Antioch and written using the Arabic script in manuscript kitabs produced by the Tatars of the Grand Duchy of Lithuania is an abbreviated version of a chapter from the Lives of the Prophets by Abu Ishak Ahmad ibn Muhammad al-Thalabi (died 1035), the famous Sunni Islam theologian, historian, and mufassir who worked in Nishapur (Northeastern Iran). The Ruthenian text is reproduced in a Latin transliteration alongside the English translation of the corresponding chapter of the Arabic treatise.

Keywords: Grand Duchy of Lithuania, Ruthenian, translations, Lithuanian Tatars, manuscripts, kitabistics, Kitab, Tafsir, Isa (Jesus), Abu Ishak Ahmad ibn Muhammad al-Thalabi.

Abu Ishako as-Salabio „Pranašų gyvenimo aprašymai“ kaip Lietuvos totorių kitabuose esančio veikalo „Isos pasiuntinybė Antiochijon“ šaltinis

Santrauka. Straipsnyje parodoma, kad ruseniškasis tekstas, arabiškais rašmenimis užrašytas Lietuvos Didžiosios Kunigaikštystės totorių rankraštiniuose kitabuose ir žinomas kaip „Isos pasiuntinybė Antiochijon“, yra Irano šiaurės rytuose esančiam Nišapuro mieste gyvenusio ir 1035 m. mirusio islamo (sunitų) teologo, istoriko ir Korano aiškintojo Abu Ishako as-Salabio knygos „Pranašų gyvenimo aprašymai“ vieno skyriaus sutrumpintojų versija. Šio ruseniškojo teksto lotyniškoji transliteracija perspausdinama lygia greta su minėto arabiško veikalo atitinkamo skyriaus vertimui į anglų kalbą.

Reikšminiai žodžiai: Lietuvos Didžioji Kunigaikštystė, rusenų kalba, vertimai, Lietuvos totorių rankrašciai, kitabistika, kitabas, tefsiras, Isa (Jėzus), Abu Ishakas as-Salabis

Несмотря за достигнутый в последние годы значительный прогресс в исследовании славяноязычного (писанного на русской мове и польском языке) арабскоалфавитного рукописного наследия татар Великого княжества Литовского, отождествление конкретных восточных источников этих текстов только начинается. Так, недавно установлено, что польский перевод Корана, записанный арабским письмом в тefsирах литовских татар, в значительной степени основан на одном из древнейших классических арабских толкований Корана, получившем широкое распространение (особенно с XV в.) под названием Танвир аль-микбас мин тафсир Ибн Аббас, которое традиционно связывается с Абдуллой ибн Аббасом (619–686), двоюродным братом пророка Мухаммеда и создателем исламской экзегетики, хотя в действительности создано в Иране кем-то из круга Абу Мухаммада аль-Динавари (ум. 920) или его учителей и лишь приписано Ибн Аббасу как исключительно авторитетному лицу [Темчин 2016].

Ниже речь пойдет о славянском тексте Посольство Исы в Антиохию, тематически связанном с 36-й сурой (Йа Син) Корана [Темчин 2019] и повествующем о том, как пророк Иса (Иисус) послал трех своих посланников в Антиохию. Он записан арабским письмом в рукописных китабах татар Великого княжества Литовского (рукописи XVII–XX вв.), например, в китабах Яна Лебедя (1771–1775 гг.), ибн Абрагама Корицкого (середина XIX в.), Александра Александровича (1881–1886 гг.) [Мишкинене, Намавичюте, Покровская 2005, 42, 59, 69].

Текст издан в латинской транскрипции по китабу Британской библиотеки (OR 13020) 2-й трети XIX в., л. 11a–13a [Akiner 2009, 370–377]. Здесь арабские фрагменты рукописного текста переведены на английский язык и заключены в квадратные скобки, так же отмечены предлагаемые издателем исправления публикуемого текста. В этой рукописи он изложен на польском языке (polszczyzna kresowa), а некоторые текстовые фрагменты – на русской мове, которую, с учетом динамики языковой ситуации в Великом княжестве Литовском и ее отражения в китабах местных татар, и следует считать исходным для данного текста языком.

Далее я постараюсь показать, что эта китабная статья является сокращенной версией одной из глав книги Жития пророков (Араис аль-Маджалис фи кисас аль-анбия) Абу Исхака Ахмада ибн Мухаммада ибн Ибрагима ан-Нисабури ас-Салаби (ум. 1035 г.), исламского (суннитского) богослова, историка и толкователя Корана, работавшего в Нишапуре (северо-восточный Иран). Это произведение известно мне по английскому переводу [Brinner 2002, 676–680], где соответствующая глава озаглавлена The Tale of Three Messengers Whom Jesus Sent to Antioch During the Reign of the Petty Kings.

Ниже славянский текст в латинской транслитерации, заимствованной из указанного издания Ш. Акинер, приводится параллельно с соответствующим фрагментом выполненного В.М. Бриннером английского перевода Житий пророков Абу Исхака ас-Салаби, где коранические цитаты даны курсивом и обычно заключены в квадратные скобки с указанием соответствующих сур и аятов.

Для удобства взаимного сопоставления обеих версий их текст разбит на нумерованные разделы (15 в русском и 14 в арабской). Исходная последовательность разделов сохранена лишь для славянского текста, тогда как в арабском она изменена с подгонкой под славянский источник. Совпадающие по смыслу фрагменты обеих версий выделены.

Посольство Исы в Антиохию , китаб Британской библиотеки (OR 13020) 2-й трети XIX в.	Повесть о трех посланниках Исы в Антиохию из Житий пророков Абу Исхака ас-Салаби (английский перевод)
1. [Coin for them a similitude: The people of the city when those sent (from Allah) came unto them] ne aznajmiv Muchemmed Mekejskim ludžem Antakijskich ludžej što nad nimi džejelaše; taho času jak jich posli paslali, Antakijskije ludži jich za pravdzivich ne prineli . Chičajeť. 'Iša prorok.	1. God said, " Narrate to them the example of the people of the city when the messengers came to it. – meaning the messengers of Jesus – when We sent two of them. " There were differences of opinion about the names of these two messengers. According to Ibn Ishāq, they were Fārūd and Rūmād, but Wahb said: Yaḥyā (John) and Yūnus (Jonah). Muqātil said Yūmān and Mālūs, while Ka'b said Ṣādiq and Ṣudūq. " If they called them liars; so We sent a third to strengthen them. " [36:13–14] – that means that we strengthened them with a third messenger, namely Simon the Brass-worker, the leader of the Disciples according to most of the commentators. However Ka'b said that his name was Shalūm, but Muqātil said that it was Sam'ān.

2. Kali 'Iša prorok pačav ludžej da veri pravdživaj navaračac pa mestach razeslav svajich tovarišav, dvuch paslav da Antakiji mesta, adnaho zvane Jechja a druhij Ševban, to obadva poslove kedi do mesta prichodžili, traflili na jednego starca, ovci paščil; šelam jemu dali. Starac muvi: Co vi za ludži, skont idžece? Oni muvili: Mi poslani ad 'Iša proroka do tego masta, ludžej do vari pravdživaj navracac, oznamujonc u jedinostva božim i proroctva 'Iša proroka. Ten starac muvi: Či jest u nas [vas] na to jaka poznaka abo umajontnoć? Oni rekli: Kedi nad chorim učinim prožba do Pana Boga bendže zdrov a šlepego učinim vidoncim a trentevatego zdrovim. Starac muvi: u mne jes [jest] sin davno chori, proše vas idc do mne, prožba činice, nech bendže zdrov. Oni pošli, po gribecce pogladžili, zdrov stal. U staraca na jednim oku belmo, prožba činili, zdrov stal. Tego starca zvano Chebib Nedžđzar. Potim jich slava u meſće rozslavilaša, ludži potrebni do nich prichodžili, a oni jím na nich potrebi došic činili.	2. Scholars of the lives of the prophets have related that Jesus sent two of the Disciples as messengers to the city of Antioch. When they neared the city they came upon an old man pasturing his herds, who was a dear friend of the companions of Ya Sīn. They greeted him and he asked who they were. “Messengers of Jesus,” they replied, “come to call you from the worship of idols to the worship of the Merciful One.” He said, “Do you perform miracles?”—“Yes, we heal the sick, and cure those born blind and lepers, by God’s leave.” The old man said, “I have a sick son, who has been bedridden for years.” They said, “Take us to your dwelling and we will observe his condition.” He took them to his dwelling, and when they saw the son of the old man in that condition, they drew near him, prayed for him, and rubbed him with their hands. He stood up immediately, by God’s leave, healthy. Word spread in the city and God healed many sick people by their hands.
3. Krulovi upovedželi o nich; krul do šebe vezval, pital u nich: Co vi za ludži? Oni muvili: Mi poslni od 'Iša proroka do vac [vas] privracac do vari pravdživaj od šlepich gluchich balvanov od paklonav odalajući, žebi v jedjego [jednega] Boga verili. Krul počal jich lajec: Jestešce vi čarovníki, prišli do mesta mego činic zamutak. Kezal jich bic, barodi rvac, ja [pa] meſće vadžic, muvic: Oto čarovníkni, napominam vas žebi jich slovam ne verili.	3. In the city of Antioch there was a tyrant who worshipped idols, who was called Salāhīn. Wahb said that his name was Abṭīhīs, who was a king of Byzantium. The scholars say that the news reached the king and he invited them to his presence and asked them who they were. “Messengers of Jesus,” they replied. “What miracles do you have?” he asked, and they said, “We cure those blind from birth, and lepers, and heal the sick, by God’s leave.” He asked them for what purpose they had come, and they answered that they had come to call him away from the worship of what cannot hear or see, to the worship of One Who hears and sees all. The king

	asked, “Is there a god other than our gods?” They said “Yes,” and he asked who it was. They said, “The One Who created you after your non-existence and created your gods.” He said, “Get up and I will look into your matter.” The people followed them, seized them, and beat them in the street.
4. Popravadžili, u turma urucili. Po- tim ‘Iša prorok ješće jednega poslal do nich, na ime Šeme’un. Ja [jak] u Kurane [When We sent unto them twain, and they denied them both, so We re- inforced them with a third] Gdi poslali dvuch tovarišav do mesta Antakiji, tedi za nepravdživich meli; zmocnilišni dvuch trecim, Šeme’unem. Gdi prišed Šeme’un do mesta Antakije vpred do turmi [margin: Jak ‘Iša trech poslov pos- slal do Antakiji jedin Jan, drugi Stefan; Šeme’un jest Potr].	4. Wahb said that Jesus sent these two messengers to Antioch, but when they came there they did not reach the king, and their stay was long. One day the king came out while they were glorifying and mentioning God, whereupon he became angry and ordered that they be imprisoned, each one of them to receive one hundred strokes of the lash. They say that when the messengers were rejected and beaten, Jesus sent the leader of the disciples, Simon the Brass-worker, immediately thereafter to help them. Simon entered the town incognito and began to associate with the entourage of the king so that they would become friendly with him.
5. Pod turmoju rek: pozvol mne žebim ja do turmim všed. Pozvolil. Všedši do turmi chleba dželil, pristom pivši do svojich torašav [tovarišav] pital: Jak sé mace? Rekl do nich: Skvaplive počeli, običajne postompovac treba bo vaša skvaplivość podobnaha jednaj nevešće ktura džezej ne rodžila, pri koncu veku svego sina porodžila, chcala jego prendko vikarmic chleb, žujonc z rota karmila i udavila; tak vaši postonpkí podobni tej nevasti [Haste is from Satan, patience from God] skvaplivość od šatana i neskvaplivość od Boga. Počekajce ſkilka dnej, bondžce cerplive, pujda do krula za volo božo i vas vizvali.

6. Potim Šeme'un do domu balvanskego pošedši vidžal ludžej balvanom klanjunše i on šad medži ludžej, Pana Boga prošil, sedžde činil; ludži rozumeli že to jich ludžej; potim pošed do mesta cuda pokazival, chorich lečil, tilko na vara ne navracał, ž ludžmi pekne bešadoval, u mešce uslavilša, všitke ludži jego šanovali.	8. Now when the king went in to his idol, Simon would enter with him and would pray and entreat God so much that people thought that he was of their faith. [cp. 4: Simon entered the town incognito and began to associate with the entourage of the king so that they would become friendly with him]
7. Krul dovedželše, vžol sobe za upo-kojevego; jednego dna s krulem zajedno bendonc, krul rek: Pred tobó co bili dva človeki co i vmojontnoś svoj poka-zivali, prorokami nazivališe vara naše ganili; kezalem jich do turmi vrucic. Šeme'un rek: Kaž vaša krulevska moc jim tustac [читай: tu stac – C.T.], obačem za jako moco oni prorostvo na šebe klando.	5. They brought word of him to the king who invited him, enjoyed his company and became friendly with him and honored him. Then, one day, Simon said to him, “O king, I have heard that you have imprisoned two men and have beaten them because they called you to a religion other than yours. Did you speak to them and hear their words?” “My anger intervened between me and them,” he said, and Simon said, “Perhaps the king could hear their call, so that we might understand what they are about.”
8. Krul kazal jich pripravadžic. Šeme'un rek: Kto to vas prislal? Oni muvili: [The Creator Who created all and to Whom there is no equal] Stvoritel Kturi stvoril všitke reči, Kturemu nimaš ruvni. Šeme'un rek: Bug vaš v jaké postaci? muvili: [God says what He wishes to say and decides what He wishes] Bug naš co chce, to učini, jak chce, tak pravuje. Šeme'un rek: Jako moco vi proroctvo činice? muvili: Chorich trendovatich lečim, zdrovi bivajon. Šeme'un rek: I ja to umem. Oni rekli: Mi šlepich vidžoncimi činim. Šeme'un rek: Ubačim kedi vi učinice. Prinešli džece kture šlepa od matki uradžila i mejce tego nemaš gdže meli bi oči bic. Šeme'un rek: Temu džecencu oči odtvarce, benda za vami u pričine prošic do	6. The king sent for the two of them, and when they appeared before him, he said to Simon, “Find out from them,” and Simon asked them who had sent them here. “The One Who created all things,” they replied. Simon spoke to them and they were calm and succinct and said, “He does what He wishes and decides what He wants.” Simon asked them what their miracles were, and they answered, “Whatever you want. We cure those born blind and lepers, and heal the sick and the chronically ill, by God’s leave.” The king gave an order and a young man was brought whose eyes were gone, their place being like his forehead. They kept on praying to God until the place of his sight split open and they took two nut-sized pieces of clay

krula; te dva posli z glini oči urobivši na mejsce očeј položili, prožba činili. Pan Bug temu džecencu oči dal. Šeme'un rek: I ja umem. Prinešli djece šlepe. Šeme'un prožba činil do Pana Boga, uči utvoriliše.	and put them in his pupils and they became organs with which they could see.
9. Oni rekli: Mi martvich uživami. Šeme'un rek: Na tego ne učine, kedi bi vi to učinili, treba bi vas nec za pravdživich. Rekli ludže: Jest umarlij sédem dnej martvij leži, ucec adšed, bez opsa [acca] ne chovanij; prinešem, uživice. Pošli, prinešli na dosce. Oni prožba činili. Šeme'un milch'kem prožba činil; ten martvij odžil. Pitali: Co ti vidžal? Rekl: Sédem dnej jav [jak] umar sédem pečurav vidžal; u kažnaj pečuri codžen mne menka činona, kožna menka ruzna bila; u šomoj pečuri dušu maju da cela prinešli i movili: Hlan da hari. Vidžev varota nebeskije adčeneni, adnaho mladženca vidžev charošaho tvar, ručki svaje pracehnuv až da 'eršu, a hetije tri čelevečki mene za valasi užali i s taje pečuri vicehnuli i sam sebe tot abačiv.	9. The king said to the two messengers, “Can your God, whom you worship, revive the dead?” They replied, “Our God is able to do anything.” So the king said, “Here is a man who died seven days ago, who was the son of a prominent man. I delayed his burial until his father returned, for he is away.” They brought the dead man, who had already decayed and stank, but the two began to call upon their Lord openly, while Simon did so in secret, and the dead man arose and said to them, “Seven days ago I died as a polytheist, then I was led through seven ravines of fire, and I warn you about what you are doing, so believe in Allah.” Then he said, “The gates of Heaven opened for me and I saw a young man with a handsome face intercede for these three men.” The king asked, “And who are the three men?” He replied, “Simon and these two,” pointing to Simon’s two friends.
10. Šeme'un rek: I krulu! balvani naši nechaj martvaho aživec žebi hetije ludži ad jich bili isisneni. Krul muvil: U balvanov našich duši net, ačeji ani jezike, jak majuc martvaho aživic?	7. The king wondered at this, and Simon said to the king, “If you asked your god so that he might perform a deed like this, you as well as your god would have glory.” The king said, “I have no secret from you, so know that our god, whom we worship, does not hear or see, cannot be of harm or benefit.”
11. Šeme'un rek: Tréba jim veric i za pravdživich nec i muselmanmi zastac; ne jes [jest] oni čarovníki, ja švadče že jich Bug pravdživij, jedinij; a ludži všitke krikneli vel'kim glosam: Vi namoviliše jednaj movaj, do nas prišli žebi nas	10. The king wondered greatly, and when Simon knew that their words had influenced the king, he reported it immediately, he called upon him and the people to believe. The king was among those who believed while others did not.

od našej vari odvrucili; ne jesteše vi proročtí tilko také ludži jak i mi [They said: Lo! We have been sent unto you. They said: Ye are but mortals like unto us. The Beneficent hath naught revealed. Ye do but lie] ne jesteše poslove tilko také ludže jak i mi Pan Boh ž nebos nične označil, vi nepravda muvice [They answered: our Lord knoweth that we are indeed sent unto you. And our duty is but plain conveyance (of the message)] Rekli poslove: Pan Bug vadomij, mi do vas v poslenstvo prišli, naleží nam abi mi prikazane bože a prorostve ‘Iša proroka javno učinili žebi slišeli a vam nas treba za pravdživich meč [(The people of the city) said: We augur ill of you] Movili kafire: Vidžim vas za glupich ludžej že vi do mesta prišli glod, frasunak, choroba z vami posbolu prišli [If ye desist not, we shall surely stone you and grievous torture will befall you at our hands] kedi vi od tego ne advrucište, tedi mi vas ukamenuje, caškuju muku vam učinim [Is it because ye are reminded (of the truth)? Nay, but ye are foward folk]. Poslove muvili: glupstvo u vas že ne verice u Boga jedinego, ale vam slušna veric [Your evil augury be with you. We have admonished you by God and yet you have threatened to stone us] že mi vam nauka povedami žebi znali Boga jedinego, dla tego mace nas za glupich i muvice: Ukamenujem vas. Nemaš u nas glupstva, vi s prikazane božego lud vistempnij.	Ka'b and Wahb said that, on the contrary, the king did not believe, and that he and his people assembled to kill the messengers. This was reported to Ḥabīb b. Murrā, a companion of Yā Sin.
12. [And there came from the uttermost part of the city a man running. He cried: O my people! Follow those who have been sent. Follow those who ask of you no fee, and who are rightly guided] Prišov prentka skar u mesta adžin čelavek Chebib Nedždžar, ketoremu jeni sina vilečili i muvil: I ludži, verec tim prorokam, oni od vas zaplati ne patrabujon	11. Ibn ‘Abbās and Muqātil said, “His name was Ḥabīb b. Isrā’il the carpenter.” Wahb said that he was ill, afflicted by leprosy. His house was near the furthest gate of the city of Antioch, and he was a believer, and charitable. He would gather his earnings, and when he finished, he would divide it into two halves: he would feed his family with one half and give alms with the other. When

Before that he had concealed his belief and worshipped the Lord in a cave. When news of the messengers reached him, he made his religion public and spoke to his people calling upon them to obey the messengers as God had said in His Book, for this is His word, “Then a man came running from the other side of the city, [‘O my people,’ he said, follow the messengers. Follow those who do not ask for any recompense of you,] and are rightly guided.” [36:20–21] His people said to him, “Are you one who contradicts our religion and is a follower of these messengers and a believer in their god?” He replied, “Why should I not worship Him Who brought me into being, to Whom you will be brought back at the end? [Should I take other gods apart from Him, who would neither be able to intercede for me nor save me if the Merciful brings me harm? In that case I would surely be in clear error.] I believe in your Lord, so listen to me.” [36:22–25].

Al-Hasan said, “They tore a hole in his throat and hanged him on the walls of the city, then buried him in the market-place of Antioch. God made Paradise obligatory for him, for that is His saying, “It was said to him, ‘Enter Paradise.’” When he reached the Garden of Allah and its esteem, He said, “If only my people knew how my Lord has forgiven me and made me one of those who are honored!” [36:26–7].

Poči duša u cele bila, hetije slova muvil; za žice i pri smerci svajej napominaće i nauki ne zanechav; tije ludži trudnaće jemu činili, a jon za jich Boha pravšiv, že jon biv prijatel boži, pomstva ne činiv, bo dobrj čelavek bez veri ne budže a zli čelavek veri nec me budže. Kali proroku jeho milošći u ched gajejstve halavu jemu pavolbonaju ražbili, zubi vibili, mnoha trudnaćci jemu kafire činili, a jon muvil: [O Lord lead my people rightly, for they are ignorant]. Pakaži hetamu ludu pravdživaju darohu, bo jeni mne trudnać činec, ne vedajuc darohi pravdživaj; kali b jeni vedali darohu pravdživoju, to bi mne taho ne činili.	[cp. 12: Al-Suddī said that they stoned him with rocks while he was saying, “O God, guide my people,” until they tore him apart and killed him]
15. Iznowu da svajich slov prichodžim: Chebib Nedždžara zabili. Pan Boh Džebra'il prikazav toja mesta iz dvuch storon istrasanuc i holas pušcic. Ad adnaho holasu uše ludži univeč aber-nulše, jak u Kurane piše: [We sent not down against his people after him a host from heaven, nor do We ever send] pa Chabib Nedždžara śmerci lud, katorije jeho zabili, vojska iz nebosa ne zsilali i ne treba zsilac, adnimi muchamni	13. They have said that when Habib was slain, God became angry at them and brought vengeance on them quickly. He ordered Gabriel, who gave them one shout and they died, all of them, for that is His word, “We did not send down any army against his people from heaven, nor did We have to send one. – upon others among the unbelievers of the nations – There was just one blast, and they were extinguished” [36:28–9] – that is to say, dead.

neprijecela zvicienžic mocen jestem. Antákijských ludzej jednim glosam Džebra’ilovim zvicienžil i univec obrucil [It was but one shout, and lo! they were extinct] tilko od glosu Džebra’ilovego, kture uslišeli, univeč obruciliše...
	14. Abū Bakr al-Khamshāwī – Ibn Abī Laylā – his father – the Messenger of Allah said, “He sent to the nations three who did not disbelieve in Allah for one instant: Ḥizqīl, the believer among Pharaoh’s people; Ḥabīb the carpenter, of the community of Yā Sīn; and ‘A1ī b. Abū Ṭālib, and he was the best of them”.

Славянская версия имеет значительное по объему продолжение апокалиптической направленности, обусловленное дальнейшим содержанием суры Йа Син и восходящее к иному источнику.

Как видим, приведенный выше руськомовный текст (подвергшийся вторичной полонизации) в основном следует арабскому, значительно сокращая его. При этом опущен лишь заключительный арабский раздел, тогда как все остальные представлены в славянском почти в том же порядке, с небольшими исключениями: они наблюдаются в изменении последовательности не только выделенных мною разделов, но и отдельных предложений внутри них (см. 4-й и 12-й разделы китабной статьи).

Содержание 5-го, 11-го и 14-го разделов славянского текста в основном не соответствует арабскому источнику, и его происхождение остается неясным. При этом 11-й раздел в значительной степени основан на 36-й суре Корана.

Несмотря на наличие текстовых дополнений, славянская версия восходит к Житиям пророков ас-Салаби, а не к более ранним источникам последнего. Это видно по тем фрагментам, где иранский историк приводит альтернативные мнения своих предшественников, и по их частично му отражению в славянской версии: см. 13-й раздел (соответствующий 12-му в арабском): Potim tije ludží Chebib Nedždžara pajmali, lancuh na šiju uzlažili pavovši na varotach, u brame pavešili. Inšije muvec, nahami ūptali, až jemu jelita višli. Inšije muvec nažami da sceni pribili.

Вероятно, Посольство Иисы в Антиохию восходит к указанной главе Житий пророков Абу Исхака ас-Салаби не непосредственно, а через промежуточный источник, к которому и следует отнести сокращение повествования и отмеченные выше содержательные отклонения от исходного арабского оригинала. Видимо, именно автору этого промежуточного источника принадлежит фраза Iznovu da svajich slov prichodžim в начале 15-го раздела, где он после очередного экскурса вновь возвращается к своему основному арабскому источнику.

Итак, оба отождественных на сегодня арабских произведения, к которым в конечном счете восходят славяноязычные тексты арабскоалфавитных рукописей татар Великого княжества Литовского, связаны своим происхождением с Ираном, что вряд ли случайно.
